

Disclosure Statement for “Labor Drops: Experimental Evidence on the Return to Additional Labor in Microenterprises”

David McKenzie, 10 August 2017

Funding for this study was received from the National Science Foundation (SES0820375), the World Bank, DfID, the Knowledge for Change Trust Fund, the Diagnostic Facility for Shared Growth Trust Fund, the Strategic Research Program Trust Fund, and the Templeton Foundation. These funding sources are included in the acknowledgements, and while the World Bank had the right to review the manuscript, none of these funders had the right to request changes in the analysis. I am not an officer, director, or board member of any organization. My family members do not have any interests to disclose. No other party had the right to review the manuscript.