Disclosure Statement

I am a coauthor of the manuscript entitled "Bargaining over Babies: Theory, Evidence, and Policy Implications" which is accepted for publication in the American Economic Review.

This is my disclosure statement that I, as author of this paper, have no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper.

I received a grant from the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft (KI1757/1-1) with funding period between October 2012 and September 2013. I used this grant to finance a one-year research stay at Northwestern University. The first ideas for this paper were developed during this period.

Sincerely yours,

Fabian Kindermann
Professor of Economics
