The author declares that she has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper. The author, however, is an employee of the Federal Reserve Board working in the Microeconomic Surveys section that administers the Survey of Consumer Finances (SCF) and, as such, has access to the restricted-use SCF data used in the paper's analysis. The author was previously a contractor at the U.S. Department of the Treasury. The author otherwise has not received financial or in-kind support from any interested party.

This project uses restricted-use data provided by the U.S. Department of the Treasury and the Federal Reserve Board and thus requires a review of the findings prior to release only to ensure that confidential information is not disclosed.
