

Disclosure Statement for Steve Cicala: “Imperfect Markets versus Imperfect Regulation in U.S. Electricity Generation”

The author declares that he has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper.

Data used for the analysis in this paper was obtained under a confidentiality agreement with the Department of Energy. All replication data using variables that were constructed wholly or in part using fuel prices have been withheld under this agreement.