Dear Editor,

Please find below my disclosures for the paper “Does Context Outweigh Individual Characteristics in Driving Voting Behavior? Evidence from Relocations within the U.S.,” submitted to The American Economic Review.

We gratefully acknowledge generous funding from the Eric M. Mindich Research Fund on the Foundations of Human Behavior.

IRB approval was not sought for this project as it is not an experiment and the data we use is fully anonymized.

I would like to report that I am the cofounder of a company specialized in electoral strategy in Europe, eXplain (<https://explain-technology.com>).

Besides this position, I have no relevant financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper.

Please do not hesitate to contact me should you require any further information.

Sincerely,

Vincent Pons
