

Disclosure statement regarding my work on

“How Early Adolescent Skills and Preferences Shape Economics Education Choices”

- My research was funded from my University of Munich (LMU) discretionary research budget.
- I was involved only with the Swedish data part of the project.
- We received financial support from the Swedish Foundation for Humanities and Social Sciences (Riksbankens Jubileumsfond) grant P12-0968.
- The Stockholm School of Economics hosts our research project.
- We also received financial support from the Becker Friedman Institute’s (BFI) Initiative for the Study of Gender in the Economy.
- This project has been evaluated for ethical compliance by the Swedish Central Ethical Review Board (EPN) approval 2013/428-31 and privacy compliance by Statistics Sweden (SCB) disclaimer 231046/878029-8.
- There are no potential conflicts of interest.
- The above statements apply to all members of my family.

Gregory F. Veramendi
University of Munich (LMU)