

Disclosure statement for paper “Cross-sectional uncertainty and the business cycle: evidence from 40 years of options data”

Stefano Giglio has received income from D.E. Shaw exceeding $10,000 over the past three years. D.E. Shaw may or may not have an interest in the research in this paper. I have no other potential conflicts to disclose.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Stefano Giglio". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style.