Within the last three years, Nathaniel Lane has received a research grant from the Sloan Foundation and research support from Brian Kahin, Fellow at Technology Policy & Research Initiative at Boston University, for basic empirical research on industrial policy, research support from the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada for the empirical analysis of industrial policy, and payment from the EBRD as an external academic consultant. He is currently a Fellow of the Roosevelt Institute, New York.

1) Sloan Foundation, I have a Sloan Foundation Grant. The Sloan Foundation provided me with funding for basic empirical research on industrial policy. (Joint with Reka Juhasz)

2) Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada. Awarded for the empirical analysis of industrial policy. (Joint with Reka Juhasz)

3) Brian Kahin, Fellow at Technology Policy & Research Initiative at Boston University, donated for research support for the same aim as our Sloan Grant, basic empirical research on industrial policy.

4) EBRD: I will be an external academic consultant on the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development's annual research report as a reviewer this summer.

Sincerely,

Nathaniel Lane
