Disclosure Statement for “Head Start Access: No Evidence of Changes to Lifetime Fertility”

The primary outcome data used in this project are publicly available from the National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS) for the years 1968-1988. For the years, 1989-2019, researchers must request restricted access data from NCHS to acquire county identifiers. The process by which researchers can access the restricted data is outlined on the NCHS website.¹ All the supplemental data sources are publicly available. All data are available at no cost to researchers.

This research was supported by the Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health & Human Development of the National Institutes of Health under Award Number R01HD0938898. The findings, conclusions, views, and opinions are solely those of the authors and do not necessarily represent the views of the National Institutes of Health.

I declare that I have no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in the paper.

Sincerely,

Maria F. Rosales Rueda, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor of Economics
