

Disclosure Statement: Steffen Andersen

Date: December 16, 2024

As one of the authors of the paper "Breaking Bad: How Health Shocks Prompt Crime", I hereby declare that I have no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper. I confirm that I have not received any funding, grants, or financial support that could potentially bias or influence the outcomes and conclusions presented in this work.

Institutional Review Board (IRB) approval

For the experimental data used in Online Appendix Table I.V, no IRB approval was obtained. The reason is that our institutions do not have IRBs.
