American Economic Journal: Economic Policy

To Whom It May Concern:

With regards to the manuscript “Cooking, health, and daily exposure to pollution spikes”, I, Joshua T. Dean, declare that I have received no financial support from any interested party and hold no positions with any relevant organization. No party has the right to review the manuscript before publication. The experiment received human subjects IRB approval from both KEMRI in Kenya and The University of Pennsylvania. The University of Chicago ceded IRB review to The University of Pennsylvania.

This research has received funding from the Weiss Fund for Research in Development Economics, the International Growth Center–Kenya, the University of California at Berkeley, the University of Pennsylvania, and the University of Chicago.

This research received IRB approval in Kenya from Amref (ESRC P1195/2022) and KEMRI (RES/7/3/1) and in the U.S. from the University of Pennsylvania (protocol ID 849048) and the University of Chicago (IRB22-0943).

Sincerely,
