Paper: "Cognitive Ability and Perceived Disagreement in Learning"

I declare that I have no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper.

For the data collection, funding was provided by the University of Surrey. The first round of data collection in 2019 was subject to the SAFE (Self Assessment for Ethics) procedure at the University of Surrey which did not require the need for an ethics application. The second round of data collection was subject to an ethics and governance review due to a change in internal procedures and received a favourable ethical opinion from the University of Surrey Ethics Committee (FASS 067 21-22 EGA – FEO, FASS 067 21-22 EGA - Amend 1 FEO and FASS 067 21-22 EGA - Amend 2 FEO).
