Disclosure Statement for Elan Satriawan

Manuscript Title: On-Demand Assistance: Experimental Evidence from Indonesia

Disclosures:

- This project was financially supported by the Australian Government, Development Innovation Ventures at USAID, and the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation.
- The team was selected to conduct this evaluation through an open competitive process. The Kartu Prakerja Management and TNP2K provided anonymized data that was used in this evaluation.
- The Indonesian Government provided in-kind support through providing survey data.
- The Australian Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade also provides support to the Government of Indonesia through a grant to TNP2K (National Team for the Acceleration of Poverty Reduction).
- I am currently Associate Professor at the Department of Economics, University of Gadjah Mada (UGM), and I was Chief of Policy Team of TNP2K at the Office of the Vice President of Indonesia at the time of the study. Neither UGM nor TNP2K had any stake in the outcomes of the evaluations.
- The research team was required to provide a copy of the manuscript to Kartu Prakerja prior to dissemination for informational purposes only, but Kartu Prakerja did not have other rights of review of the manuscript.

All views expressed in the paper are those of the authors, and do not necessarily reflect the views of any of the many institutions or individuals acknowledged here.