

Ezra Oberfield
Disclosure Statement
“Balanced Growth Despite Uzawa”

The author declares that he has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper. The author received no financial support for this particular research. The author received a grant from the Washington Center for Equitable Growth for a separate research project called “Substitution and the Skill Premium” which is tangentially related to this project.