

Disclosure of Financial Relationships of Thomas J. Sargent

I attend conferences and meetings at the Federal Reserve Board and regional Federal Reserve Banks, and occasionally at central banks of other countries, including the Bank of Korea for the past 10 years or so. In some cases, I receives honoraria for my participations at these conferences. I teach a six week class as a visiting professor at Singapore Management University and am compensated for that. I visited the IMF research department for four months during the academic year 2016-2017 and was paid partial salary replacement.
