

The author declares that he has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in the paper “The Social Value of Financial Expertise”.

Pablo Kurlat
Stanford University
Department of Economics