

Disclosure statement for “Using Synthetic Controls: Feasibility, Data Requirements, and Methodological Aspects,” accepted for publication at Journal of Economic Literature.

The author declares that he has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this article. The article did not involve collection of data on human subjects, so no IRB approval was required.

Alberto Abadie