

American Economic Journals Disclosure Statement
(Please include one for every author of the paper.)

Date:4/23/19

Author Name: Michel Grosz

Manuscript Title: The Returns to a Large Community College Program: Evidence from Admissions Lotteries

Disclosure Statement:

I declare that I have no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper.

Data access for this project was provided by the California Community College Chancellor's Office. This project received financial support from the Center for Poverty Research at UC Davis, funded by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Office of the Assistant Secretary for Planning and Analysis (ASPE); the Institute of Education Sciences, U.S. Department of Education, through Grant R305C110011 to Teachers College, Columbia University; the Interdisciplinary Frontiers in the Humanities and Arts Program at UC Davis; and the Smith Richardson Foundation. This work is also supported by a National Academy of Education/Spencer Dissertation Fellowship. The opinions expressed are those of the author alone and not those of agencies providing funding nor of the agency providing data access.

The work conducted here received IRB approval.